TRUMP GOT ELECTED, NOW WHAT?

Green Panel to Discuss CO Sustainable Future During Trump Era

Denver, CO, January 12, 2017 – On January 26, 2017 Davies Media Design will be hosting the first ever Denver Green Forum at Enterprise Coworking to discuss sustainability's future in Colorado under a Trump administration.

“The citizens of Colorado have decided not to take a backseat approach to the newly elected president’s anti-climate action administration,” says Michael Davies, Organizer of the Denver Green Forum. “A lot of people are scared about what’s next, but more people are determined to stand up and fight for our planet. The goal of this panel discussion is to fuel the green passions of Coloradans, while opening others up to the idea that sustainability is a bipartisan endeavor. We’re providing insight into what businesses are doing to reduce their footprints, and what policies we can expect coming down the pipeline from state and national policymakers.”

Event panelists include Pete Maysmith, Executive Director of Conservation Colorado, Matt Hamilton, Sustainability Director of Aspen Skiing Company, Corey Odell, Sustainability Coordinator of Odell Brewing Company, and Turner Wyatt, Executive Director of the Denver Food Rescue.

Tickets to the event can be purchased via our website or at the door, with early bird discounts available until January 14 and group rates available.
